SMALL POX INCREASING!

Between Thirty and Thirty-five Cases of Dread Disease.

CLOSE TO BELLEFONTE

Time for the Board of Health to Take Notice—Benner and Spring Townships are the Stamping Ground.

SIX CASES IN ONE FAMILY

The small pox epidemic which has been traveling over the state for the past year, sometimes increasing and then decreasing in violence has touched Bellefonte very lightly so far. Other parts of the county however have not been so fortunate. Bellefonte is such a healthy town that an epidemic of any disease is very remote. However we feel like calling attention to the fact that a great many cases of small pox exist in close proximity to Bellefonte and it behooves the different boards of health in this neighborhood to take every precaution to prevent its spread.

We were much astonished Tuesday when informed that there are between thirty and thirty five cases of small pox within a radius of two miles of Bellefonte. It is alleged that one of the victims attended two funerals in Bellefonte last week.

Five houses are now quarantined in Benner township and it is expected that others will soon be under the ban.

Those who are reported to have small pox, are as follows: J. H. Fishburn and four children; Mr. and Mrs. Fishburn, two sons and a daughter, William Ishler Jr., three children; six members of Reuben Breon's family; six members of Arthur Norris family and six members of John Ishler's family.

The Fishburn family live on the farm just south of town. Reuben Breon, Arthur Norris and the two Ishler families live on adjoining farms along the Boalsburg pike near the old "Irish" toll gate.

The origin of these cases of small pox is as follows: A girl working for Al. Rishel below town went to visit friends at Howard and on her return was taken sick, About that time a sledding party composed of the Rishels, Breons and Fishburns visited Rishels. Of course they came in contact with the girl and as a result we have the present cases of small pox.

The cases are all mild ones and if the proper effort is made they can soon be stamped out.

Death of John Goodhart.

John Goodhart, an engineer on the Cambria and Clearfield branch of the P. R. R. division, died suddenly at his home on Monday morning at Crescent, Pa., of neuralgia of the heart. He had come in off of a run and gone to his home where he took seriously ill and died at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Goodhart was a son of the late Wm. Goodhart who died last July, and a nephew of George Goodhart, ex-commissioner of Centre county. The body was taken to the home of his mother's at Spring Mills and services held in the Presbyterian church at that place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Conducted by Rev. W. H. Schuyler, D. D. Interment was made in the Union cemetery. He leaves to mourn his death his mother, four sisters and three brothers, viz: Sarah Goodhart, Cleveland, O.; Mira and Margaret, who are the matron and assistant matron at the Bellefonte hospital; Mrs. Edward Foreman, of Youngstown, O.; Robert, of Altoona; and Samuel and Frank at home.

Died in Los Angeles.

The sad news of the death of Frederick Denning, of Mt. Hope, Va., was received this week by the Philipsburg relatives of the deceased gentleman.

Mr. Denning was a son of Albert Denning, a one time resident of this vicinity, and was aged 37 years. He was cashier and one of the stockholders of the National Bank of Mt. Hope, but rheumatism had driven him to Los Angeles to spend the winter, and he died there on March 4. In accordance with his expressed wish Mr. Denning's remains were cremated, the ceremony taking place at Los. Angeles shortly after midnight Saturday and his widow soon after started for her Virginia home bearing the precious ashes. Only last March, Willard Denning, his cousin, a son of Leander Denning, of Clearfield, died in the south and was brought home for burial.—Philipsburg Journal.

BASKET BALL.

The Three A's of Altoona Defeated Bellefonte Champions.

The Three A's basket ball team of Altoona Monday evening met and defeated the Bellefonte champions in an exciting game at the gymnasium at Green avenue and Eleventh street Altoona. The score was 23 to 5. At no time were the locals in danger of losing the contest, although the visitors made them play ball. The teams lined up as follows:

Three A.	Position	Bellefonte.
Gamble	forward	Gephart
McNevin-Hargraves	"	Weaver
Roth	centre	Newbaker
Tomlinson-Fechter	guard	Keichline
Zimmers	"	Burns

Summary—Goals from the field, Gamble 2, Roth 4, Hargraves 1, Fechter 1, Zimmers 1, Gephart 1, Weaver 2, Newbaker 1, Keichline 1, Burns 1; goals from fouls Roth 1, Keichline 1; foule called, Three A's 5, Bellefonte 4; referee, Gephart; timers, Pegg and Anderson, time of halves, twenty minutes.

Rev. Benjamin B. Hamlin Dead.

The Rev. B. B. Hamlin, D. D., died at his home in Huntingdon Tuesday March 8, from an affection of the heart, in his eighty-first year. He was born in Warren county. He was converted at the age of 20 and became a member of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1848, transferring from the Baltimore conference into the East Baltimore first, and then into the Central Pennsylvania conference at its organization in 1869. He served with great acceptance many of the most prominent and some of the humblest appointments within the bonds of the conference just named, including the First church of Altoona; was presiding elder of what is known as the Bellefonte district 1862-65; of the Juniata district, 1868-72; of the Harrisburg district, 1874-77; of the Altoona district, 1889-94. Afterwards he served Ridge Ave. Altoona and Houtzdale, retiring from the active work of the ministry and locating in Huntingdon in 1900. His services were in great demand, however, and scarcely a Sunday passed that he was not engaged in the congenial work of preaching the Gospel. He represented the Central Pennsylvania conference in the general conferences of 1872 and 1876. His wife, for many years his faithful helper in the work of the itinerant ministry, passed to the better country about five years ago. A son and two daughters survive.

He was sincere in his friendships, and, like all strong men, positive in his likes and dislikes. He was simple in his tastes and habits, and childlike in his confidence in men. Always cheerful, his presence in any social circle was cordially welcomed.

Rev. Wm. Brown to Leave Bellefonte.

Rev. William Brown arrived home on Thursday from the United Evangelical conference and at the revival services Thursday evening took into full membership in the church about fifteen men and women. We are sorry to learn that Rev. Brown will leave Bellefonte soon and go to other fields of usefullness. While here he has won host of friends and doubled the membership of his church. The large edifice inside and out has been beautifully painted and frescoed during his pastorate, and the debt almost wiped out. He is a true conscientious, broad minded minister and the congregation where he goes to can congratulate themselves on receiving such as he.

Rev. W. B. Cox of York, Pa., has been appointed to this charge, and we know from hearing that he is a splendid minister and well loved by the people he has been ministering too.

Wedding Bells.

Ernest Sowers and Miss Bessie Tressler, both of State College, were married at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, March 10th, at the home of the bride's parents near Hunter's Park, Rev. E. R. Heckman performed the ceremony.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sowers. He is at present working for the electrician on the new College buildings, and is a young man whose friends are confident that he will make a useful and respected citizen. His bride is a young lady respected by all who know her and one who will make a good help-mate in the yoke of married life. The couple will go to housekeeping in State College immediately.

This paper, in behalf of the friends of both bride and groom, offers congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

HUSTLE FOR VOTES IN TEACHER'S CONTEST

Candidates and Their Friends are Getting Interested.

All Candidates Will Probably Make Gains During the Coming Week and the Battle of the Ballots will be on in Ernest.

WHO IS THE MOST POPULAR TEACHER?

The second count of votes in the great Teachers Worlds Fair Contest took place today and the standing of the many candidates is considerably changed. There have been a number of new candidates named and the interest in the contest is increasing all along the line. Nearly all the candidates have made gains which must be satisfactory to them and their friends. By next week the race will be fairly started and just how it will end no one can foretell. It is quite likely there will be a number of surprises as many of those now in the rear will probably go to the front. The coupons received are well distributed. There is no exceedingly large amount for any one candidate but a fair proportion of the total was received by many of the contestants. This tends to increase the interest by keeping the race close. There is no reason for any candidate to be discouraged as some candidate who has not received a vote yet may be the winner. The present advantage or disadvantage will amount to little in the end if the proper effort is made by the candidate or their friends. Everyone has an opportunity of winning yet no one has a certainty.

In this contest as in all others it is good generalship that will win the battle. Those who have made a good start are the ones who have rallied all their friends to them and are securing their aid in collecting coupons. New subscriptions to the paper and getting those who do take it to pay up is the best way to make rapid gains. Every new subscriber paying a dollar on subscription entitles the holder to 50 votes for the favorite teacher.

Miss Levy still leads the vote with Miss Craighead not far behind. Miss Heckman has made a big gain as did also Miss Alice S. Neff, of Roland, and Miss Annie L. Daley, of Romola. Miss Jennie Morrison, of Philipsburg, has some friends on their side of the mountain and if her Philipsburg friends would rally to her support she might prove a winner. Others who have made good gains are Misses Alice K. Dorworth, Frances Elmore and Jennie Longacre of Bellefonte, and Helen Jodon, of Axe Mann.

The new ones voted for this week were W. R. Heaton, Martha; Helen Crissman, Jennie Longacre, John F. Garthoff, of Bellefonte; E. A. Humpton of Snow Shoe; Van Jodon, Axe Mann, anyone of whom may prove a dark horse in the race.

The vote up to today is as follow:

Miss Ella Levy, Milesburg	535
" Bessie Craighead, Bellefonte	302
" Rebecca Heckman, "	220
" Alice S. Neff, Roland	184
Mr. John N. Moyer, Rebersburg	115
Miss Jennie Morrison, Philipsburg	111
" Annie L. Daley, Romola	102
" Alice K. Dorsworth, Bellefonte	65
" Frances B. Elmore, Bellefonte	46
" Lula M. Cronister, Martha	2
" Mabel Brungart, Wolfs Store	28
Miss Alma Pletcher, Howard	2
Mr, Chas. A. Heiss, Bellefonte	57
Miss Gertie Taylor, "	63
Mr. Gwen R. Warring, Philipsburg	27
Mr. John D. Meyer, Bellefonte	1
Miss Mary Woods, " "	2
Mr, James A. Fiedler, Romola	29
" " A. Pratt, Unionville	3
" G. Earnest Ardery, Martha	1
" J. R. Williams, Martha	1
Miss Roda E. Bowes, Pine Glenn	1
Miss Bessie Dorsworth, Bellefonte	8
Miss Helen Jodon, Axe Mann	84
Carrie Weaver, Bellefonte	5
Mr, E. A. Humpton, Snow Shoe	50
" W. R. Heaton, Martha	53
Van Jodon, Axe Mann	8
Miss Jennie Longacre, Bellefonte	41

RULES GOVERNING CONTEST.

The Bellefonte REPUBLICAN and the DAILY NEWS, both under one management, have decided to make the most generous offer ever made by a newspaper in the history of Centre county. The offer is simply this: We will send to the great World's Fair at St Louis next summer the most popular school teacher, lady or gentleman, in Centre county, paying all expenses such as car fare, hotel bills, and admission to the fair grounds.

Who is the most popular school teacher and therefore the lucky one take in the World's Fair? This will be decided by the readers of the DAILY NEWS and Bellefone REPUBLICAN. A coupon will be published in each issue of both papers from now on until June 11, 1904, and you simply have to write your choice on the ballot and send it to this office. The fortunate one receiving the most votes in the given time takes the trip.

The following are the rules and regulations:

FIRST.—The contest is open to any teacher, lady or gentleman, providing he or she is a teacher of a Centre county school.

SECOND.—Three judges agreeable to the candidates will be selected to officially count the final vote and announce the winner.

THIRD.—Matters properly concerning the tour will be settled by the wishes of the majority. The winner shall have the right to name a proxy if unable to attend theirself.

FOURTH.—Only one name can be written on a coupon. The vote of one candidate cannot be transferred to another. Ballots will be placed in the box only by the publisher of the REPUBLICAN and NEWS or by his bookkeeper.

FIFTH.—Voting will commence at once and will close Saturday, June 11, 1904, at 7 o'clock in the evening. Coupons over ten days old cannot be voted Votes will be counted each week and the totals announced in the Thursday issues of the REPUBICAN and NEWS. No coupons will be sold, but to each new or old subscriber paying $1 on either paper will be given a coupon which will entitle the holder to fifty votes if the dollar is paid before the 15th day of April, forty votes if paid between April 15, and May 15, and thirty votes if paid between May 15 and June 11 at 7 o'clock in the evening. For every dollar paid on subscription the subscriber will be entitled to fifty, forty or thirty votes, according to when the dollar is paid.

The object of this distribution being to place a premium on early payments of subscription, hurry up and pay your subscription and vote for the teacher of your choice.

B. A. C. Defeats Academy.

The fourth game in the silver cup basket ball series was played Thursday evening by the Athletic Club and Academy teams and was won by the former team by the close score of 25 to 22. To say that it was the most closely contested and exciting game ever played in the Armory is speaking very mildly indeed, for every spectator was kept at the pitch of interest and excitement from the start of the contest to the close, as one team would be in the lead by a point or two and in another moment find itself led by its opponents by a similar score. In short it was anyone's game until the referee blew his whistle at the end. At the close of the first half the Athletics led by a score of 12 to 11. Within the last minute and a half of the end of the second half the Academy had the lead by a slight margin, but two quickly executed and clever plays by Newbaker and Gephart turned the defeat into victory. One of the best things to be said about this contest is that with all the excitement, mean and objectionable playing was entirely absent. Referee Dunn gave perfect satisfaction.

The line up:

B. A. C.	position	B. A.
Gephart	forward	Weaver
Quigley	forward	Burns
Newbaker	centre	Sharpe
Lane	guard	Lauder
Keichline	guard	Leathers

Goals from field, Sharpe 6, Newbaker 4, Gephart 3, Lauder 2 Quigley 2, Weaver 1, Keichline 1, Burns 1.

Goals from foul, Keichline 5, Sharpe 2.

Laid Away in the Tomb.

All that was mortal of Mrs. Henry Walkey was tenderly and lovingly laid away in her last resting place on Thursday afternoon.

She was a woman loved and respected by hosts of friends and these to pay their last respects gathered at her late home on Logan street while Rev. Ambrose Schmidt read and spoke of the beautiful christian life the deceased had lived. Many eyes were dimmed with tears as he lovingly spoke of her as she lived in her home and in her Church. The Reformed choir composed of Mrs. Ambrose Schmidt, Mrs. George Tibbens, Mrs. Harry Jenkins, Miss Sadie Ott, Mr. Henry Brown and Mr. A. Lukenbach sang very sweetly "Lead Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me." Many beautiful floral offerings rested on the casket showing the love and the esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The casket bearers were Messrs Hammond Seehler, William Derstine, William Runkle, Sidney Krumrine, A. Lukenback and Samuel Goss. Interment was made in the family plot in the Union cemetery.

Death of Mrs. John Wagner.

Mrs. Sarah Wagner, relict of the late John Wagner, died Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock from infirmities incident to old age.

The deceased was born at Egg Hill near Potters Mills, Centre county, June 17, 1816, making her age 87 years, 8 months and 22 days. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Weiser and was of Revolutionary ancestory. She was united in marriage with John Wagner, a then prominent business man of the county over 65 years ago.

This union was blessed by the birth of four childred namely: Mrs. Michael Hess, Mrs. Adam Wagner, John Wagner and Henry F. Wagner, dec'd.

The deceased was a sincere christian lady and a member of the Reformed church since a girl of 12 years of age. The funeral was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Ambrose Schmidth officiating. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Clean Up the Yards, Alleys, and Streets.

The deep snow and continued cold weather covering a period of three months and a half, have caused a large accumulation of filth, which reveals itself as the snow melts. The borough authorities, under the direction of the board of health, should see that the streets and alleys are properly cleaned, and issue orders to property owners compelling the cleaning of back yards. Prompt action will alone prevent an epidemic of disease, as past observation shows that sickness always follows a breakup after a long winter.

Lutheran Social.

The co-workers of the Lutheran church will give an oyster supper at Mr. Charles Hazel's this evening. Supper will be served from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m, All are invited.

INSPECTION OF COMPANY B.

The Boys Made a Fine Showing in the Armory.

ON TUESDAY EVENING

The Inspecting Officer Was Major J. W. Jefferies of Pittsburg—Other Military Officials Were Present.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED PEOPLE PRESENT

For several months members of Company B, 5th Regiment N. G. P. could be seen wending their way to the armory for the purpose of drilling and cleaning the state property which they are held accountable for. The boys have been working hard to maintain the standard the Company has gained, and Tuesday nights inspection was one, far better, than any they have ever had, and they feel fully repaid for their earnest effort to remain at the head of the National Guards of Pennsylvania. The members of the company and their officers shouldered this great responsibility and worked together in perfect unison to accomplish this great honor which they have so successfully won.

Fully five hundred of our prominent citizens who pride themselves as being warm friends of the boys assembled to witness the drilling and the inspection. The stage, galleries and every other available foot of room was occupied, and time after time when a pretty movement was made loud applause would ring throughout that large Armory.

The members of the company were attired in full blue uniform, every man was as neat as he possibly could be. The brass buttons and buckles shown like pieces of gold. When lined up for muster fifty five enlisted men and three officers answered "Here" to their names when called. Two members of the company were unavoidably absent.

When the inspection of arms and personal appearance of the boys was being made the Coleville Band which is known all over the state for its fine music enlivened the time playing "Dixie," and "Hiawatha" to perfection.

The manuel of arms, marching, guard mount, and school of the non-commissioned officers could not have been any better and we feel safe in saying, as we got the information from good authority that Company B, 5th Regiment N. G. P. will retain their old position as head of the "Guards" of Pennsylvania. Major Samuel W. Jefferies of the Second Brigade N. G. P., and Captain Peter C. Harris, of the United States Army were the inspecting officers.

They were assisted by Col. Rufus C. Elder of the 5th Reg., Captain William Simpson, Company H, 12th Reg., and Lieutenant and assistant surgeon R. G. H. Hayes, of the 5th Reg.

From a report circulated this morning as coming from one of the officers present at the inspection, the members of company B, can feel highly elated, as arrangements are now in progress to convey the guards to the Worlds Fair at St. Louis during the coming July. Eight days will be spent going, coming and at the Fair. The boys will immediately on their return go into camp either at Gettysburg Pa. or Middletown, New York.

Death Claims a Young Lady.

On Saturday at six o'clock as the shades of evening were gathering the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Halderman at Lemont, and carried hence into that land of glory prepared for those who love the Lord, their grand daughter Miss Mary Halderman.

She was a kind Christian young girl and was a member of the Methodist church at the above mentioned place, and when her health permitted she was always found at her place of worship. She has been a very patient sufferer all winter with consumption and when the end came she was ready and prepared to go to her eternal home.

Mary J. Halderman was a daughter of the late Alfred and Clara Halderman and was 12 years, 7 months and 9 days old., The funeral occured on Tuesday morning at 9:30 from the home of her grand-parents. Services conducted by Rev. Edgar Heckman. She leaves to mourn her death one brother Frank who is employed at the Howard creamery, Bellefonte, and one sister Maud, of State College. Interment at Boalsburg.

FARM·ORCHARD and GARDEN

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

Frost is nature's pulverizer and snow her fertilizer.

Twenty-four broom firms have formed an ironclad trust. They will make a clean sweep of it.

Prior to the year 1870, when the skin hunters got in their work, 4,000,000 buffaloes occupied the range territory now held by the stock barons.

With the mercury at 10 degrees above zero and a foot of snow on the ground we noted a pair of English sparrows busy building a nest the last of February.

Ensilage forms a most excellent ration for nearly all kinds of farm animals, giving a succulent and appetizing food for poultry, hogs and horses, fed occasionally.

Because a man lives on a farm it is no reason why he should not keep his hair and beard neatly trimmed. Some fine farms have frowsy looking old fellows running them.

The American workingman when at work wants a good ration. This the American farmer produces for him, and this combination is what makes good times on the farm.

Not much in the way of material improvement or advance may be looked for on the part of the darky until the coons and possums of the south are exterminated, for when these are within his reach he seems to have little ambition for anything better or higher.

If you give your boy a pig or a calf and after he has cared for and reared it you unfairly sold such animal and pocketed the proceeds, don't join the church until you have squared things up with that boy. It will be hard work to keep him from playing with the cat's tail while you offer family prayers if you do.

When a traveling fruit tree agent proposes to give you a bargain in the shape of trees with patent wrappers at 50 cents apiece, you are safe in itemizing it thus: Cost of tree, 10 cents; wrapper, one-half cent, and profit in the pocket of the agent, 39½ cents. Don't encourage these frauds by such donations, but buy your trees of your nearest reliable nurseryman. At least be sane enough to get his price list.

The popular idea of Siberia that it is a vast, barren waste, a land of drought and intense cold, is false, the fact being that it is as nearly like our western prairie country before it was settled as can well be. True, Siberia has a torrid heat in summer and an arctic cold in winter, but it has abundant rainfall, possesses a rich soil and is easily capable of producing unlimited crops of all cereals common to the latitude in which it lies.

A singular migration of wild fowl is reported from the upper Mississippi valley as occurring the middle of February, in the very dead of a hard winter, being a southward movement of vast numbers of gulls and ducks which had been driven from the usually open water of Lake Michigan by the closing up of their feeding grounds by ice, thousands of birds being found starved to death on the ice fields. The instinct of birds is not always equal to their self preservation under such extraordinary conditions.

While there are dairy herds here and there that possess individuals which have a butter record of 250 pounds per year, the vast majority of herds do not approach this. The only remedy available is to weed out the unprofitable members. The constant aim of the dairyman as well as the stock raiser should be to rid himself of all animals showing undesirable traits or variations and the careful selection and propagation of all those which show individual excellencies. This can be done only through a careful study of the individuals of the herd.

Growers of corn should take extraordinary precautions in securing and testing their seed this year. Reports from many portions of the corn belt indicate a degree of vitality much below the average. No corn that does not show a germination of at least 95 per cent or that does not show a strong vitality should be planted. A simple method of testing is to wrap a representative sample of the corn that is desired for seed in a wet cloth or paper and place in a warm room. This should be moistened from time to time. At the end of five days it will be well sprouted if it is suitable for seed. Basing estimates on such tests, no poor seed need be planted.

The state of New York made 40,019,794 pounds of butter and 123,987,516 pounds of cheese for the year 1903.

The old rotten straw stack in the middle of the field is a blemish to any farm. It takes five years to get rid of it.

While a tree will grow if planted in the fall, provided there is moisture enough in the soil, the spring is still the better time to plant it.

Seed corn is so easily robbed of its vitality that really the common sense and safe thing to do is to thoroughly test all seed before planting.

The war in the far east may be depended upon to impart a strong tone to the prices of all farm products for the coming year. It will pay to produce all crops possible.

Analysis shows that the highest percentages of oil and protein are found in the chit, or germ, of the kernel. For this reason select for seed corn having long kernels well filled at the germ end.

The average boy is more likely to follow the example of his father than the precept of his mother. Fortunate the woman who does not have a handicap along this line in the rearing of her sons!

The clover plant lives two years and dies a natural death. While there seem to be exceptions to this rule, the exceptions will generally be found to arise from a reseeding of the first year's crop.

In ordering seed corn from foreign houses be sure to specify northern grown corn. Otherwise you may be confronted in the middle of September with a crop of corn that needs six weeks more in which to ripen.

In the grim contest being waged in the far east Russia is not fighting rice fed coolies, but a people who appreciate the value of American pork, beef and flour—seemingly insignificant factors which may have much to do in deciding the struggle.

If you are fond of early green stuff and don't want to build a hotbed, scatter some lettuce seed in a warm, sheltered spot the last of March and rake in gently. The plants will soon appear and are not damaged by the frost. Transplant in a bed eight inches apart if you would have the finest heads.

It will be as much of an achievement to look back upon in declining years to have raised several blue ribbon boys and girls as to have produced hogs that were prize winners at the county and state fairs. It is only scrubs that will beat you out of your property and let you go to the poorhouse.

The roads adjoining the land of a prosperous farmer near where the writer lives have been almost impassable this winter because of the fact that he neglected to cut the weeds on the highway last summer, as required by the new law of the state. The weeds have proved a catchall for all the drifting snow.

The sparrow because it winters with us and breeds earlier in the season than any of our native birds takes possession of all nesting places sought by such birds as wrens, martins and bluebirds, and these birds are either driven away when they arrive from the south or obtain a nesting place as the result of a hard fight with the little brown pests.

Methods of farm management are coming more and more to depend upon the ability to secure needed and reliable help. Many a farmer is face to face with the problem of selling half his land, reserving such as he can manage himself or getting into an entirely stock raising business. Choice as between raising the dual purpose Shorthorn or the Doddy is largely dependent upon getting necessary help.

The cotton boll weevil, which is destroying so large a portion of the cotton grower's profit and the ravages of which give promise of increasing rather than diminishing, may not prove an unmixed evil after all. It will almost force upon the heretofore exclusive cotton growing sections a diversified agriculture, which will tend in some measure to restore the virgin fertility of the soil lost in continuous cropping to cotton.

A lily white hand with a diamond on the third finger is not unnaturally a possession which the average woman would be glad to have, but such hands are not the ones which feed, dress and spank the American boys who are making the nation great. The womanly hand which is thus shaping the destiny of the republic is not soft or white, and no gem sparkles upon it. Browned and sometimes calloused, it commands a reverence from all for the patriotic way in which it does its work.

A reader, a farmer of limited means, wishes to know if he can make a success of a silo by digging a long and wide trench in the ground and after filling it with silage cover it with hay or straw and a layer of earth. No; he cannot. Such a plan would be a total failure, as the air would not be excluded from contact with the silage, and he would have a fermented, rotten mess of stuff when he opened it. The secret of building the successful silo is to shut out the air, and the easiest and cheapest way to attain this result is to build an airtight cylinder the height of which shall be at least two and a half times its diameter. The greater the pressure the better the silage will keep.

LAW AND NATURAL HISTORY.

As an argument to defeat the passage of a law by the legislature of a western state to prevent the spring shooting of wild fowl it was gravely asserted by men who certainly should have known better that the wild fowl—ducks and geese—which migrate to the south in the fall mate and nest and rear a winter crop of young birds in the south, where they winter, and then, returning north in the spring, raise another brood in their northern homes. It is difficult to treat such ignorant stupidity as this with any seriousness when the error is so very palpable. All of our wild fowl—ducks, geese, swan, crane and more—all of our migratory birds, breed but once a year, and while in some cases two broods are produced in one year, as in the case of the robin and quail and occasionally with some other varieties, the second brood always follows closely after the first and is absolutely confined to the natural period of nidification—the spring and summer season, wherever the birds may be located. The spring flight of all wild fowl is invariably made up of matured birds, never any fledgelings. The mating occurs during or immediately succeeding this spring flight; the summer is devoted to the rearing and care of the young brood; the autumn migration is forced by climatic conditions, which shut off both the food and water supply, and the four months are spent where food and open water can be secured, recuperating for the next season's campaign. Among all the millions of wild fowl which swarm on the lagoons of Texas and the gulf coast, among all the swarms of robins which populate the cedar swamps of the southern states, there never is found a case of winter breeding. It seems passing strange that men deemed wise enough to make laws should be ignorant of so well established a fact in natural history as the foregoing.

TWO EXPENSIVE MONTHS.

February and March are two expensive months for all the country north of latitude 41. Expenses always exceed incomes. They are fuel destroying, fodder annihilating months, when one has to sit down and see the days slowly eat up the earnings of the previous summer—black and gloomy months, when so many old people die, and epidemics prevail, and trains are off time or ditched, and one gets weary of waiting for spring and liberty. If these two months could be snipped out of the calendar for the territory named and January linked on to April it would be a good thing. It is during these months that California pilgrims make life miserable for their friends left behind by aggravating and roseate descriptions of sunshine, warmth, fruits and flowers, their enjoyment of these luxuries evidently intensified by the knowledge that the rest of us are stuffing furnaces, thawing out water pipes, shoveling snow and fighting as best we can a temperature of zero or worse for forty days at a stretch. If we can ever find time we will go out there when they are being roasted to a crisp, cracked open with a ten months' drought and fighting dust storms and crop failures just to take a grim sort of satisfaction in knowing that things are partially evened up after all.

THE FAMILY HOTBED.

With the return of spring there will be some readers of these notes who will want to know how to build a small, inexpensive hotbed. Select a sheltered spot, open to the sun, for the location of the bed. If new lumber is used, nail two sixteen foot boards to end pieces of a length that will accommodate the sash you desire to use, having the frame slope to the south some six or eight inches. Drive stakes at intervals of three or four feet outside the frame to prevent spreading, fill with green horse manure, wet down and plant your seeds as soon as things begin to heat. Sow an abundance of radish and lettuce, enough tomato, cauliflower and cabbage seed to furnish plants for yourself and your neighbors, and try as an experiment a paper each of sage, red pepper and eggplant, these latter, with the cabbage and tomato plants, to be transplanted into the open ground as soon as danger of frost is past. Keep the bed well watered, and remove the sash on warm days to prevent a spindly growth. If you have never had a hotbed you will be surprised how much satisfaction this small outlay of work will bring you.

ECONOMICAL CORN HARVESTING.

The following was tried last fall: A man bought 2,000 range yearling sheep and turned them into a fine eighty acre field of corn in a western state. They first cleaned up all the weeds, then the leaves of the corn and then went at the ears, and so thoroughly did they do their work that not a bushel of corn was wasted in the field, and the increase in mutton made gave him a good price for his corn. He further rid his field of a lot of weeds and gave it a coat of one of the very best of fertilizers. This plan would only give good results during a dry fall.

THE BAD BOOK IN THE HAYMOW.

Literature, whether bad or good, is so abundant and cheap that it finds its way into the hands of all sorts of people and in all sorts of places. Not a few good, honest farmers' boys and as many town boys are being corrupted through the agency of a tough hired man and a bad book in the haymow. It is just as well for the farmer with young sons to look out for this risk.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Bellefonte Readers must Come to that Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Bellefonte but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. Then following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Geo. Gross of Water Street says: "In the summer of 1895 I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache, procuring them from the Bush Block drug store. Accompanying the pain in my back was an annoyance from the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me after I had been troubled for years. I thought I was going to have backache again but two years afterwards I went fishing got soaked through and this ended in effecting my back I again restored my old cure Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me good immediately although in the meantime I had taken other remedies but without obtaining relief. I can as conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did formerly for backache or kidney trouble."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

OPPOSING FLEETS MEET IN HARBOR OFF PORT ARTHUR

The Russians Went out Early and Attacked the Japanese.

One Jap Torpedo Boat Sunk, Also One Russian—The Fate of the Latter's Crew is Not Known.

SOME OTHER LATE WAR NEWS

LONDON, March 10.—(4:15 a. m, Thursday).—No further news has reached London of the reported fighting at Port Arthur, or of the fate of the Russian Vladivostok squadron. Up to a late hour last night the Japanese legation here had heard nothing of these reported occurrances, but it is considered significant that none of the Russian official dispatches make any mention of the Vladivostok cruisers.

The news from Washington, of the appearance of Japanese forces at Fung-Wang-Chang, about forty-five miles northwest of Antung, in Manchuria, and Tassan, a few miles inland from the mouth of the Yalu river, is regarded as most important.

ADVANCE ALONG THE YALU.

According to the Tien Tsin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, the Japanese advanced from the Yalu river, captured Fung-Wang-Chang and drove out the Russians in the vicinity to the Ta-Ku-Ling eastern pass, and are in force seventy miles east of New Chwang. The Russians, with 35,000 men, are entrenched strongly at Liao-Yang and Hai Cheng, where fighting is imminent. Some small engagements already have been fought, the Russians retiring with losses.

ARE USING FORMER TACTICS.

This correspondent says further that the Japanese are using the same tactics and advancing along the same route they followed during the Chinese war.

The Yin-Kow correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, also vaguely reports the Japanese to be fifty miles northwest of Antung, and well to the westward of the Yalu river.

This is the only news on this subject yet received in London, and to some of the military critics it is inconceivable that Japan really can have executed such a sudden, unexpected and successful turning of the Russian position, on the Yalu river, which is thought would have necessitated the employment of a much larger force than it is believed Japan can possibly have at this point.

JAP VICTORY COMPLETE

The Daily Telegraph, commenting on these reports, says that if the news of this strange and marvelous collapse of Russian power on land is true, there is nothing to prevent the Japanese from seizing Mukden and the railroad. There has been nothing to compare with this move, the paper continues, since Napoleon staggered Europe by appearing in the plains of Italy, having descended from the Alps as from the clouds. Its effect throughout the East will be stupendous.

OTHERS AWAIT DETAILS.

Rumors of mediation in the Far East continues to circulate on the continent, but evidently the British government has no idea that mediation is possible. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, replying to a letter on this subject from the Arbitration and Peace Association, which suggested mediation under The Hague convention, said His Majesty's government feared that such an offer could not safely be made to the belligerents at the present time.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 10.—The Czar has received the following message from Viceroy Alexieff dated Mukden, March 10:

"The comandant of fortress at Port Arthur reports that at about one o'clock this morning the outlines of vessels, apparently torpedo boats, were seen at sea within the area swept by our searchlights. Our batteries opened fire upon these vessels. Our torpedo boats put out to sea at 2:40 a. m., and at about four o'clock met the enemy west of the Liao Tishin lighthouse. Aftering firing several shots, the enemy retired to the south in the direction of Shandun. Our torpedo boats returned to the harbor at 6 o'clock.

"Later torpedo boats were again sent to sea to reconnoiter. They returned in half an hour, having learned that an enemy's squadron was approaching.

"At 8 o'clock the Japanese opened fire upon our cruisers and the fortress. The enemy had fourteen ships and fired the entire time from behind Liao Tishin.

"I have the honor to report the above to Your Majesty.

(Signed) "Alexieff"

TORPEDO BOATS MAKE THE ATTACK

MUKDEN, March 10.—The following advices have been received here from Port Arthur:

"Torpedo boats of the enemy were discovered off Port Arthur about midnight last night. The shore batteries opened fire on them, but soon ceased. At about three o'clock in the morning four of our torpedo boats went out to sea. They met the enemy, who fired a few shots and then withdrew. Our torpedo boats then returned.

"Later two of our torpedo boats again went out to sea, but at once returned, bringing news of the approach of a Japanese squadron of fourteen ships. At about 8 o'clock in the morning this squadron opened fire at long range."

ENGAGEMENT BETWEEN MOUNTED SCOUTS

TOKIO, March 10.—Russian and Japanese mounted scouts met north of Ping Yang yesterday. After a brief engagement the Russians retreated. No casualties on either side.

YING KOW, March 10.—The concentration of troops at the Russian strategical base has resulted in much suffering among the Chinese in habitants, especially at Liao Yang, where even private buildings have been appropriated to accommodate the soldiers, and thousands of Chinese are consequently without homes.

Russian troops are encamping at all the essential points along the railroad.

ST. PETERSBURG, March, 11, (7:10 p. m.).—The Russian torpedo boat flotilla left Port Arthur at broad daylight this morning and attacked the Japanese torpedo fleet. One Japanese torpedo boat was sunk, and one Russian torpedo boat destroyer, the Rezposchtchain, was sunk. The fate of the latter's crew is not known.

St. Petersburg, March 11.—General Kuropatkin, who is about to leave for the Far East to take command of the military forces there, had a long farewell interview with the Emperor today. He also paid parting visits to the Empress and the Grand Dukes.

The Emperor in bidding him farewell, expressed the greatest confidence that he would bring glory to Russian arms.

Later in the day, General Kuropatkin received a deputation from the municipal council, who presented him with an address and a triple ikon, or sacred picture, representing the warrior saints Alexander Nevsky, Alexis and George. The general received the ikon on bended knees and kissed it. In returning thanks to the deputation, he spoke modestly and said:

"It is necessary to be calm and patient. The army will make faithful efforts to accomplish the task entrusted to it by the Emperor. Slight reverses are possible. Our troops are assembling slowly, and in this everything depends on the railroad. I am firmly confident that God will respond to our prayers and bless Russian arms."

THERE WILL BE NO CONFLICT AUTHORITY.

It can be asserted positively that there will be no conflict of authority between Viceroy Alexieff and General Kuropatkin. The former is to retain administrative control of the viceroyalty. General Kuropatkin, although nominally a subordinate, will exercise complete control of the land operations and Vice Admiral Makaroff will command the Far East.

About 5,000 men are going forward over the Siberian railroad every day, and by the middle of April all the troops necessary to put into effect the plans of the government will be in East Asia. The land railroad around Lake Baikal is expected to be completed by the middle of April and thereafter the transportation of supplies and munitions of war, will not, it is believed, give any further trouble.

A LATER REPORT BY ALEXIEFF.

St. Petersburg, March 12.—Viceroy Alexieff has sent the following message to the Emperor:

"In the fight between our torpedo boats and the Japanese cruisers on March 11, Captain Matteussevitch, Ensign Alexankroff and Mechanical Engineer Blinoff received slight wounds, and Ensign Zaeff was severely wounded in the head, losing his right eye.

"The commandant at Port Arthur reports the following details of the bombardment of the fortress there on March 10:

"As soon as the enemy opened fire our batteries replied. Six of the enemys ships remained behind the Liao-Tishin promonotory and opened fire on the fortress over that shelter. They ceased bombarding at 1:15 p. m. The enemy fired about 200 projectiles. One shell from battery No. 15 damaged a Japanese cruiser seriously. The results of the bombardment were insignificant; six soldiers were wounded. Three inhabitants of the town were killed and one was seriously wounded."

"According to Gen. Stoessel's reports the officers and soldiers in the shore batteries displayed exemplary courage and fired their guns in perfect order."

Earth Worms.

Darwin, the great naturalist; who made a careful study of the earthworm in its relation to the soil, estimated that the average earthworm passes through its body about twenty ounces of soil per year, and that there are on an average 25,000 worms per acre, or one for each two square feet, making a little more than about fifteen tons of soil and humus brought up from underneath and deposited on the surface of every acre of land annually. This is heavier manuring than is done by the average Iowa farmers. He also states that they cover the surface of the earth at the rate of three inches in fifteen years.

Denny Hall Burned.

Denny Hall, the finest edifice on Dickinson College campus, Carlisle, was gutted by fire last week. The loss is $50,000. The fire was started by crossed electric wires.

The building contained practically all the recitation rooms of the college, the rooms of the two old literary societies, the administration offices, and the athletic trophy room.

Although there were one hundred and fifty students—fifty of them women—in the building, at the time the fire was discovered, all passed out in good order.

Bed Hangings.

Bed hangings are again in fashion The daintiest and lightest of colorings are used for them, from white madras nets, tambour muslins, soft india silk, to brocades in all their exquisite pastel shades. There are also the æsthetic and quaint colorings both of design and dye or the more conventional patterns that will ever retain a meed of popularity. The textures for the hangings are beautiful. Tambour sets are delightful, with draperies of the same. The French white work is exceedingly decorative, with curtains of a much thinner material. Japanese fabrics are always popular and can be had in pure white, with a knotted fringe, or in tan or tea colored silk edged with lace of the same shade. Bedspreads and pillow shams of lace over colored linings tone with the hangings. Spreads of old hand woven linen with borders of antique lace are being used again by those who are fortunate to possess them.—London Express.

A Curiosity.

"The man I am looking for," said the mature looking spinster sentimentally, "must be utterly unselfish, brave as a lion, tender, truthful as the day, industrious, intelligent, thoughtful, of distinguished presence and one who never drinks, smokes, gambles or uses profane language. I shall not mind if he is poor—that will not matter."

"Not a bit," remarked the damsel's cynical old father grimly. "He'd have a fine chance of making money, my dear."

"How so, papa?"

THE KIDNEYS are strengthened and toned by Hood's Sarsaparilla—it cures all their ailments, pains in the loins and THE BACKACHE.

—A few days ago a reasonably well dressed man entered the town of Williamsburg in the guise of being the young brother of Charles M. Schwab. He was an oily and slick tongued individual and after landing lost no time in making known who he was in the hopes of being lionized by the friends of the Schwab family in that community. From whence he came or whither he was going none could tell, but during the evening he left Williamsburg a trifle wiser and dejected than when he first entered town in the morning, the people during the day having taken the trouble to trim the fringe from his high flying sails.

SUPPOSE HE HAS.

The holdup man with shaded eyes,
The bold and daring crook
Who takes the watch you dearly prize
And eke your pocketbook,
May have a baby and a wife
To spur him to his toil
And nerve his hand to take your life
That they may spend the spoil.

Perhaps a tender, trusting maid
Awaits the vulgar tough
By whom you are at night waylaid
And handled rather rough,
And of your substance he may buy
And to the lady bring
A diamond that just strikes her eye
Set in a dainty ring.

It may be true, but I would say
The bet you would not lose
To guess the fellow goes away
And spends your roll for booze,
And brags about it on the sly,
And sits around and smokes,
And then when he is full of rye
Goes home and beats his folks.

Suppose he has a dozen kids,
A wife to share his lot,
That doesn't help things when he bids
You shell out or get shot;
How kind a husband and a man
He is you do not ken.
You know if you his life could plan
He'd spend it in the pen.

DRANK POISON IN COURT.

Desperate Act of a Lawyer to Save His Client From Conviction.

Brigadier General Leonard W. Colby of the Nebraska militia has figured in the public eye on several occasions. He is inordinately fond of show. Many years ago he bought the white Arabian stallion which was presented to General Grant by the sultan of Turkey. This spread his fame abroad throughout the land, and the horse became the center of attraction in every parade in which Colby took part, and he missed few west of the Missouri river.

But Colby's greatest claim to notoriety rests on the fact that he is probably the only lawyer who ever swallowed deadly poison in order to obtain a client's acquittal. At this time he was a struggling lawyer in Beatrice, Neb. He was called upon to defend a woman accused of killing her husband by poisoning him with arsenic. The evidence was practically conclusive, and there was hardly a flaw in the case presented by the prosecution. The husband's body had been exhumed, the stomach taken out, analyzed and the poison found and placed in a bottle. There was indubitable proof that the woman had administered the poison, and General Colby did not contest this point. He merely laid stress on the contention that the man had died from natural causes and that the poison found in his stomach was not sufficient to cause his death. On this point, however, his expert testimony was rather weak, and he had to impress the jury by some other method.

THE LAWYER DRAINED THE BOTTLE.

Colby's office was in a building adjoining the courthouse. When he entered the courthouse after the noon recess to make his argument for the defense, he appeared a little bit more nervous than usual, but this was attributed to the high strung temperament that seems characteristic of the born orator. His speech was eloquent and the peroration dramatic.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said in summing up, "I contend that the poison my client is said to have administered to her husband was not enough to kill any man, to say nothing of one possessing his constitution. He died from some other cause. If that poison would have killed him, it would kill me."

He picked up the bottle of poison from the table before him.

"There is not enough poison there to kill a kitten. I will prove to you that there is not enough to kill a man."

Before any one could prevent him he pulled out the cork, threw back his head and drained the bottle. Then he stood before the jury, his black eyes flashing, and thundered out:

"Gentlemen of the jury, if this poison kills me you can convict my client, but if I live, as I shall, you will have to bring in a verdict in her favor."

With a parting bow to the judge and the twelve men in the jury box, he walked rapidly out of the courtroom to his office, where he locked himself in. In twenty minutes he was back in the courtroom, smiling and confident. It took the jury about three minutes to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

A few days afterward it leaked out that General Colby had a doctor in his office and that the physician had removed the poison—enough to have killed ten men—with a stomach pump. Of course there was an uproar, but the law says a prisoner's life cannot be twice placed in jeopardy. And then, as a wise old lawyer suggested, Colby had destroyed the only evidence upon which conviction could be secured in event of another trial.

UNHEROIC END OF TWO HEROES.

How Veterans of Many Battles Met Commonplace Deaths.

There are many instances of men who have braved death in a hundred forms and at last have been killed by some commonplace accident.

A type of the surprises which fate seems to have in store for those who seem to have charmed lives is the accident which ended the career of Captain Charles de St. Croix. He was one of the heroes who had survived all the horrors of the Crimean war and lived face to face with death in all forms during that time. He seemed to invite death by volunteering for any specially dangerous duty, but he remained untouched while his companions fell all around him.

In later years he earned a reputation for being the most daring and lucky big game hunter in India and subjected himself to a thousand risks, any one of which might have proved fatal, yet his life was spared to be crushed out of him under the wheels of a London omnibus.

A companion of Captain St. Croix, Major Hanson, met an even more ignominious death. He had so many and marvelous escapes in the Crimean war and in the Indian mutiny that in the army he had gained the nickname of "The Devil's Own."

While skating he had a fall and fractured his thigh. Amputation became necessary, and he died under the operation.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., March, 15, 1904.

Not within this generation has there been witnessed such a scene of excitement and confusion in the House of Representatives as that which transpired on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. As with a whirlwind party lines went down before the withering blast of the Bristow report upon the alleged connection of Congressmen with the Post Office frauds. Not an hour's delay was tolerated to enable the Committee on Post Offices which gave the report to the public, to delay it upon the table. Mr. Overstreet, chairman of the committee tried to extract the sting from the document, but failed, and the whole question was thrown open for discussion. Members proceeded with alacrity to take the bull by the horns. He had got into political china shop and must be hustled out. The public pressed into the galleries until they were overflowing, and great crowds waited at the doors.

During the debate it was with difficulty, and much pounding of the desk that Speaker Cannon could maintain sufficient order for the transaction of business. Congressmen who have been in the House ten and twenty years, white with anger, denounced the charges and insinuations as exaggerated, uncalled for, garbled, and improper included as a part of the document. It suppressed truth and suggested that which was false. The best that can be said is that many Congressmen on both sides of the House, since the government was organized, have been in the habit of making recommendations and suggestions to the Post Office department, regarding the identical matters charged up against them in the report. This is not what they were elected for and the practice should be reformed altogether.

All departments of the government, shared in the excitement, and nothing else was talked of among politicians. In brief the Bristow report contained the names of about one hundred and fifty members of Congress out of a total membership of four hundred and eighty. These have been held up to public scorn and their integrity impeached. The discussion would have been continued on the 10th inst, but for an adjournment of the House for the day occasioned by the death of a member, Hon. Geo. W. Croft, of South Carolina. The specific charges were that the members named had gone to the Department asking for an increase in the salaries of certain postmasters, requesting more clerks for certain post offices, and desiring an increased allowance for the rent of buildings. It was charged that a few were owners of the buildings which were to be leased by the government. While there was not a technical violation of law, it appears that certain regulations of the Department were violated by Beavers, who had these matters in charge and who is under indictment. During the two days discussion Congressmen tried to purge themselves of all wrong doing, but the report has gone broadcast and many a political career is nipped. At the conclusion of the debate, the House voted to appoint a select committee to investigate the charges made against Members of Congress. There will be no further general investigation of the Post Office Department.

The indignation of Congress caused some anxiety at the White House and the President on the 10th inst., summoned Speaker Cannon, Mr. Overstreet, and Mr. Bristow for consultation. The Postmaster General is suffering from an attack of gout. The President has called to see him. On the 10th inst., the President issued an executive order to all the employes of the government, enjoining them to refrain from expressing opinions about the war which might irritate the nations of Europe.

There has been little legislation in Congress the past week, owing to the excitement caused by the Bristow report. The army bill has passed the Senate. What is known as the Alaska bill has also passed. It provides for good roads, schools, etc. The Senate has prohibited cattle grazing on the Bull Run forest preserve in Oregon. Considerable opposition is manifested in Congress to the erection of a statue of Frederick the Great in Washington. The House Committee on Ways and Means has agreed to the proposition to prohibit absolutely the killing of seals on the Pribilof island. The herb has diminished from four and a half millions to one hundred and twenty thousand head.

The secrets of Mormonism and the organization of that peculiar church continue to be dragged into the light. There is much curiosity to know all about plural marriages, revelations, the legal status of children, and why the law is set at defiance. The investigation may drag on for a long time. Apostle Smith admits that he keeps up five different domestic establishments, and that he and the officers of the church are very sensitive on the subject of plural marriages.

U. E. Appointments.

The following appointments were made by Bishop W. F. Heil, to the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the United Evangelical church at York, for the Central District:—E. Crumbling, P. E. Altoona, M. Phi-Kappa-Sigma Banquet.

The Phi-Kappa-Sigma Fraternity of State College held a successful banquet and dance at the Brockerhoff House Thursday evening. About forty guests were in attendance and the music for the occasion was furnished by the Bellefonte Orchestra under the leadership of Prof. Christy Smith.

The banquet began at 8 o'clock and lasted until ten o'clock when dancing commenced and was kept up until 3 a. m.

Guests were present from Williamsport, Harrisburg, Clearfield, Philipsburg and Milton.

The banquet table was very beautifully decorated with ferns and American Beauty roses. The affair was arranged by Frank S. Gates and John H. Lytle.

Steve Squeir Killed at the Furnace.

Monday morning Steve Squeir a young Hungarian 20 years of age was instantly killed at the Bellefonte Furnace. He had started to work and was crossing a trestle fifteen feet high carrying a heavy wrench when he slipped and fell to the iron flooring the wrench struck him breaking his neck which caused his death.

Steve was a happy young Hungarian who has been in this country five months. Away over in Austria, Hungary, awaits a widowed mother for his return home. He was good and kind to her as every month after receiving his pay he would send all to her with the exception of what he needed to pay his board here. The body was brought to Naginey's undertaking establishment and was prepared for burial. The funeral occurred on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the St. John's Catholic church on Bishop street.

An Aged Womans Death.

Mrs. Margaret McKinney, one of the oldest residents of Centre County, died Tuesday afternoon at her home near Eckley's School house. She was the widow of Alexander McKinney, who died about two years ago while on the road driving home from town.

Mrs. McKinney's death was due to paralysis and she had been an invalid for about two years. She was born in Donegal, Ireland, and was 95 years of age. She and her husband came to this country in 1851.

Two children James in Michigan and Sarah at home survive.

The funeral will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St, John's Catholic church of which deceased was a faithful member. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

A Double Elopement.

The oldest son of G. P. Sarvis, formerly pastor of the Pleasant Gap Methodist church was a party to a double elopement from Altoona last week. The two young couples left Altoona one evening and were married by a magistrate in Philadelphia the next day. The young lady Mr. Sarvis married is a Catholic and religious differences prevented the consummation of the ceremony at home.

Special Notice in World's Fair Contest.

At the general request of the readers of the REPUBLICAN and teachers and their friends who are interested in our World's Fair Contest. We have decided that beginning with this issue all coupons cut from the Republican shall count (6) votes instead of (1) as heretofore. The coupons in the Daily News remain the same, good for (1) vote. This gives the country teacher and his or her friends an equal chance with the town.

Get your friends interested and if your neighbors don't take the paper get them to do so and every dollar paid will count 50 votes in the contest for whoever you may desire.

Now is the time for action.

Frank Boal Dead.

Frank Boal, of State College, died Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Dropsy was the cause of his death. Funeral services were held at the house Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by interment in the Honserville cemetery.

Mr. Boal was born at Pleasant Gap and was 41 years old last October. Two years ago in September he took sick while at work and had since been confined to his home, with the exception of a few weeks at a hospital. He was a great sufferer. He leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. Boal desires to express her thanks to all whose who have been so kind and helpful to her during the continued illness of her husband.

Mrs. Wagner Laid to Rest.

After many years of usefulness the body of Mrs. Sarah Wagner was laid away in its last resting place to await the summons of the Master to come on High where Mansions of Glory have been prepared for such as she who has always lived very close to her Father in Heaven.

The old homestead was filled with sorrowing friends who had gathered to pay their last tributes of respect. The singing by the Reformed choir was very pretty and impressive. The services were in charge of Rev. Ambrose Schmidt, her pastor assisted by Rev. D. M. Wolf, D. D. of Spring Mills and Rev. H. C. Holloway D. D. of the Lutheran church of Bellefonte.

The casket bearers were all grandsons of the deceased and were as follows: John, Curtis and Harry Wagner, and Earnest, John, and Newton Hess. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

A Close Call.

Mr. James Stine the Thomas street grocer had an experience Thursday evening at 7:30 that he will not soon forget. Mr. Stine was in his store and was sitting near the stove when he heard the plastering overhead cracking. He thought that it was about time for him to get out of that. He picked up his cane and started for the door and he had hardly gotten outside until the plastering on the ceiling fell down, in one great mass. It seems that a water pipe in the room above had frozen and had then bursted allowing the water to soak the plastering loose and causing it to fall. This was certainly a close call for Mr. Stine. The building in which the accident happened belongs to the John Pacini estate.

—Blanchard and Blanchard have rented the suite of offices in Temple Court formerly occupied by the late John M. Dale. Gen Beaver will retain his apartments there for a while at least and Miss Mitchell will remain to look after his business exclusively.

Moran of the Lady Letty

BY FRANK NORRIS

This superb sea tale by the brilliant author of "The Pit," "The Octopus," etc., will be run serially in this paper, beginning in our next issue.

"SCRATCH a Russian and you will find a Tartar." In Moran of the Lady Letty, daughter of a Norse sea captain, you find a viking. Here are some glimpses of her from the author's pen: "Moran, the girl of the Lady Letty, standing erect upon the quarter deck holding down the schooner's wheel. She was herself again—savage, splendid, dominant.——"That night, lying flat on her back on the deck, with the quadrant to her eye, she 'got a star and brought it down to the horizon.'——"A girl of two and twenty who could calculate longitude from the altitude of a star.——"Her heavy brows were knotted over her flaming eyes, her hat was gone, and her thick bands of yellow hair whipped across her face and streamed out in the wind like streamers of the northern light.——"Her arms were bared to the elbow, her heavy ropes of hair flying and coiling from her in all directions, while with a voice hoarse from shouting she sang, or, rather, chanted, in her long forgotten Norse tongue, fragments of old sagas, words and sentences meaningless even to herself. The fury of battle had exalted her to a sort of frenzy. She was beside herself with excitement. Once more she had lapsed back to the vikings and sea rovers of the tenth century; she was Brunehild again, a shield maiden, a Valkyrie, a berserker and the daughter of berserkers."

She was herself again.

And yet Moran fell in love. You can read her story in our columns, beginning in the next issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

PORT MATILDA.

Who is Port Matilda's favorite school teacher. Find out and vote for her in the Republican's Worlds Fair Contest.

Mrs. H. H. Osmon has been sick ever since she returned home from a long visit with her two daughters, one at Pittsburg, and the other at Stewart Station.

One of the most surprising parties ever held in Port Matilda took place on Thursday evening. It was in honor of Mrs. Belle Miles birthday. Mrs. McKinny, Miss Reese and Mr. Woodring invited 35 of town folks and then got Mrs. Miles to take supper up at her aunt Ella Jones and while she was enjoying her supper the party gathered and when Mrs. Miles returned at 7 o'clock she could not understand it. All were made welcome and a pleasant evening passed in the playing of games and the eating of the good things prepared and brought in by the visitors and at 11 all departed for their home feeling that it was good for them to have been there.

On Thursday evening a very nice little party gathered at Mrs. Curry's and had a very nice time playing games.

The Port Matilda Castle No. 219 Knights of the Golden Eagle had a free oyster supper one night recently for their lady friends. You bet they all turn out on this occasion which takes place once every year. It is prepared with the money from the sinking fund. All enjoyed themselves and there was plenty to eat and a good time socially.

Some one played a smart trick on our P. R. R., agent a few days ago by taking 7 excursions return tickets to Tyrone. But as soon as the train had gone the agent missed them and reported tickets short and numbers so that they will be caught if they use them.

Mrs. Rachel Funk has been sick for a couple of weeks and her daughter, Elsie and Miss Alice Newman took sick while waiting on her.

Miss Kate Cowher has moved from Mrs. Thomas' home to H. M. Miles property and expects to open a millinery store this Spring.

HOLTS HOLLOW.

We still have an abundance of snow.

The sick at this place are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shope, Col. James F. Weaver. All are improving at this writing and we hope they will get well. Dr. Huff, of Milesburg, is attending them.

Grandma Brooks and her son William were visiting in Milesburg.

Mr. Housel attended the sale Zion on Tuesday Mar. 8.

Mr. Green and son Blain attended the sale at Zion.

Mr. Hastings Lyman and Mr. Frank Pletcher were in Milesburg recently.

Mr. John Rossman was in Milesburg recently.

Mr. Wm. Brooks had the misfortune to loose one of his best cows by getting fast in the barn.

Mrs. Housel and Mrs Allen visited at Col. James Weaver's one afternoon recently.

Mr. Weller who is working for Mr. Hastings Lyman is moving his goods to Intersection where he expects to move with his family in the near future.

Mr Freeze was visiting in Milesburg one day last week.

St. Patrick's day will soon be here.

The robins have been seen expecting warm weather but they were disappointing. Instead of warm weather it snowed again.

Miss Pearl Greene was visiting the school on Friday, and Mrs. Housel and Mrs. Lizzie Weaver both of this place, were visiting at the school on Thursday afternoon.

The meeting of the Hot Air men which was held on Wednesday evening March 9th passed off very nicely. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Crandall, after which they at once proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. Following are the officers elected: Pres. J. H. Crandall; vice pres., J. W. Neff; Secretary, H. M. Harm; Treas. W. A. Sickel; Chief Generators, H. W. Faus, J. W. Shope, R. D. Gilliland and Augustus S. Kech; Sub-Generators, Robert Kech. J. M. Gilliland, Harry E. Leathers and Paul Irvin. D. P. Fortney's application for membership was then considered and after referring to the testimony gathered in regard to the eligibilty of Mr. Fortney. It was found necessary to carry his application over until the next meeting of the club, when it will be decided whether he (Mr. Fortney) is eligible to membership or not. Pres. Crandall then gave a short talk on "Hot Air" and closed by saying he hoped Hot Air would be generated more freely, as there is a great demand for it. The members then departed for their places of abode with Hot Air stocks at 110.

Martin, why didn't you get a horse and sleigh and take us out sleigh-riding? Mart, being very absent minded exclaimed: Why I forgot all about it.

That the state of Pennsylvania has been sending thousands of patients to sanitariums in Colorado and California is a known fact; but they need not do so in the near future, when our little town of Snow Shoe has a sanitarium equal to that of White Haven, which is situated on the Pocano mountains. Our little town of Snow Shoe is situated on the Allegheny Mts., about 2000 feet above sea level with abundance of pure mountain air, which has worked many wonders. We not only have the pure mountain air, but we have what is called "Hot-Air" and if used very freely is bound to bring good results. Its merit lies in the process of generating whereby it is so thoroughly generated that it is bound to work many wonders. The mountain scenery is the most picturesque and the springs both pure and mineral are the finest. The Diamond spring which is noted for its beautiful diamonds, attracts many visitors from all over the country. Among the many things worthy of note is Crandall's cave which is about 2½ miles from our town. It was just recently discovered by Mr. Crandall's and was visited by several thousand people more or less, during the last year. Chauncey who has been discharged lately is pronounced permanently cured by the young "Governess". Patients are being cared for from the far western part of the state to the extreme east. Mellin's Food is the main diet and the Bethlehem boy is fast learning to like it. The two patients who were expected at the sanitarium Saturday have not yet arrived.

Mr. H. M. Harm desires to inform the people in general, that he is still in the honey business and has about 700 lbs. of very fine honey (wasp variety) on hand, which he will dispose of at a very low figure. Meredith, agent of the company, or may be obtained by mail (postpaid) direct from the Tyrone office, on request. For further information address; "Mose" Lucas, Forest Avenue, in the woods.

These slippery walks, whatever vices they may have, have certainly proved themselves an important factor in the enlightment of the scientific world. We refer particularly to their astronomical value. Myriads of stars and planets that have never yet been charted and which the astronomers, with the aid of the most powerful telescopes, had never before seen, have been discovered every year during the icy era by some of the most humble of pedestrians——ourselves for instance. Our worthy pharmacist, Wm. A. Sickel, it may be asserted, has been favored with a deeper glimpse into the ethereal realm than most of us. He was laboriously perambulating from his place of business toward the Government Bldg., a few days ago when suddenly (as he relates) his gaze was turned upward by an unseen force, as it were and a great number of strange luminous bodies flashed before his vision, each and every one being conspicuous because of its dazzling brilliancy and jagged edges. They soon disappeared, however, and Mr. Sickel was at leisure to direct his attention to his immediate surroundings. "What the harry became of my what-you-call-'im-hat." But his hat in the meantime had, in company with his umbrella went off on a little aerial voyage of its own and was quite out of reach. He (Mr. Sickel) is now about as well as usual again, but he was forced to suspend the "Here's looking at you" habit for a couple of days.

Not got a Piano in your home, What is home without music. OUR Line of STANDARD Made Pianos Consists of the Following:

Knabe, Hobart M. Gable, Schomacker, Blassius, Bruntbach, Estey &c.

A piano with a soul in it—that may be said of the Pianos we offer. It is this quality that makes a piano appeal to any pianist and vocalist.

Any type of Piano means much to a family, and the purchase of one is never regretted. The only regret possible is when an inferior instrument is bought. As the ear is developed the slightest imperfections begin to jar. Then when a reputable piano is heard, dissatisfaction ensues with one of less depth and high quality. We sell Pianos direct from factory to home.

Remember it is not how much on one, but it is how many sales we can make which enables us to sell high grade pianos at so low a cost.

Pianos Are on The Move and consequently our display from week to week consists of the NEWEST TYPES OF PIANOS from the leading manufacturers.

We invite comparison of goods, and we pledge to furnish you with the Piano or Organ of your choice at as low a cost as can be procured elsewhere. We continue to have bargains in Organs,—Piano cased, Cottage styles, Chapel, &c.

We have a large line of organs taken in exchange on pianos good as new, at specially low prices.

All standard sewing machines, all styles and designs, at low prices and terms to suit. Sheet music, and musical mdse.

Death of Mrs. Samuel Slack.

At the age of 62 years, 2 months and 13 days Mrs. Samuel Slack passed away at her home, near Colyer, on Monday evening at half-past six o'clock. She had been bed-fast for a long time with dropsical troubles. Before her marriage deceased was a Miss Kimport, a sister of James and Lot Kimport. She was a most estimable woman; loving in her domestic relations, charitable with those about her and zealous in her christian faith.

Surviving her are her husband and children Warren and Elizabeth. Rev. G. W. McIlnay, of the Methodist church of which she was a member, officiated at her interment at Sprucetown Thursday morning.

—Dr. Wm. Frear, of State College, has been appointed by the Director of Congresses of the St. Louis Exposition as a member of the Committee on Organization for the International Pure Food Congress to be held in connection with the Exposition.

DER PENNSYLVANIER

Mischter Drucker! — D'r Säm Flicker is do terzlich mit seiner Alte in Druwel gerothe wege seiner Zeiting. Er hot es for viele Johre verbummelt, for sei Zeiting zu bezahle, un terzlich hot er dum Drucker en Bill kriegt for zehe Dhaler rickstännig Subscripschen. Uf een Weg oder d'r anner hot sei Alte des Babier in die Händ bekumme un do war dann d'r Deiwel los. D'r Säm hot ihr welle weißmache, es wär en Notis for Feuer-Inschurings, awer se hot es ihm net geglahbt, un se hot druf bestanne, daß er nau die Zeiting abstappe mißt. Schun sidder letschte Herbst hot se an ihm gedingdangt wege dere Zeiting. Des is so kumme: D'r Säm war grad am Latwergriehre, wie die Zeiting kumme is. Er net faul, loßt den Riehrer falle un fangt an zu lese. Do is es dann gehäppent, daß d'r Latwerg angebrennt is. Zu sage, daß er Hehl Columbia kriegt hot, is nix. Un wann sei Alte mol anfangt zu schelte, dann heert se nimmer uf. Bei jedem Ihms hot's geheeße: Do freß Dei angebrennte Latwerg. Nau awer, sidder as selle Bill kumme is, war, wie gesaht, d'r Deiwel los. Alle Oweb, wann er in's Bett kumme is, do is des sehm Liedel gesunge worre un sell hot gewehnlich bis um zwelf Uhr geläscht: „Wann ich en neier Dreß hawe will, dann heeßt es allfort, es is kee Geld do, awer nau hoscht Du zehe Dhaler for die schwarzbeenig Zeiting. Un Du hoscht enihau unser Latwerg anbrenne losse. Ich bin des Zeitinglese leebig. Zum Elend hoscht Du es noch so en kleene Ewigkeet henke losse mit d'r Bezahling un nau geht's beim Hause. Ich arme Frah awer muß mit erer alte Dreß un eme Bonnet, was ich schun vier Johr drag, rumlahfe. Des Ding werd awer nau gestappt."

„Was denkst Du vun dere Geschicht?" segt d'r Säm zu mir. „Alle Oweb muß die sehm alt stinkig Stohrie iwergekaut werre un es gebt gar kee Ausweiches. Ich hab d'r Alte en neier Dreß un Bonnet versproche, wann se jusch ihr Maul halte dät, awer es hatt Alles nix. Im Anfang hot es mich gebattert, for ich war so en Lewe net gewehnt. Allerlei Nohschens sen mir in d'r Kopp kumme un ee Nacht war ich nächst dra, im Nachthemb in d'r Kanal zu dschumpe. Wie ich mir's awer nochemol iwerlege will, do bin ich driwer saund eigeschlofe. Am nächste Morge hab ich dran gedenkt, en Ticket zu kahfe for noch Kanada, hab awer ah seller Plan ufgewe. Des Gegrummel is net weniger worre, awer ich hab es net meh so viel gemeint. Is es net ardlig, wie sich d'r Mensch an Alles gewehnt? Uftohrs hot es mich gar net gefuht, daheem so en Brummbär zu hawe, un alle Oweb noch em Supper bin ich niwer in's Werthshaus. Wann ich dann so en Uhr halwer elfe heemkumme bin, hab ich angeloßt, as wann ich tipsy wär, hab mich in's Bett gelegt un hab anfange zu schnarkse. Do hät Ihr dann die Spietsch heere solle —ich meen, die Deitschlännische heeße es en Karbinerbredig—ich hab mich awer net gemuckst. Een Dag is meiner Frah ihr jinger Schwester, die Mändie, zu uns uf Besuch kumme. Se hot bal gesehne, daß ebbes letz war, un am Nochmittag is se zu mir in die Scheier niwer kumme un hot angefange: ‚Awer Säm, was muß ich heere! Wer hät so ebbes von Dir gedenkt—alle Oweb g'soffe, segt mei Schwester.' Ich hab laut rausgelacht un ihr dann mei Druwel verzählt. Sag ich: ‚Es is ufkohrs net recht, daß ich's so lang hab henke losse mit d'r Zeiting; so ebbes sot mer alle Johr bezahle, dann dät mer's net meinde. Sell kann awer nau net meh geholfe werre un d'r Drucker muß bezahlt sei un wann sich mei Alte uf d'r Kopp stellt. Heit noch schick ich ihm des Geld. Un die Zeiting les ich enihau; is es net daheem, dann is es im Werthshaus—meind sell.' Die Mändie hot jusch gesaht, des Ding wär net halwer so schlimm, wie ihr Schwester es gemacht hät. Dann is se in's Haus niwer. Owebs am Disch hab ich gemerkt, daß mit meiner Alte en Verännering vorgange is, hab awer net angeloßt, as wann ich ebbes merke dät. Wie ich nochher grad derbei war, an d'r Drucker zu schreiwe, do kummt se, schmeeßt en Dhaler un en halwer vor mich hie und segt: ‚Do, leg des ah derzu for en Johr im Voraus. Un vun nau an werd alle Johr bezahlt, meind. Nemm Dich awer in Acht, daß Du d'r Latwerg nimme anbrenne loscht.'"

THE BOGUS CHECK MAN.

Tries His Scheme on Smith Brothers, Spring Mills, but His Nerve Fails.

George King, alias Henry Smith, tried to work his bogus check scheme on the Smith brothers, Spring Mills, Thursday evening of last week. His story was one so altogether likely that he would have received the change, but for the fact that the schemer lacked sufficient nerve to await the senior member of the firm, who had gone to get the change from his brother, the junior partner.

Kings modus operandi was this:

He called at the home of O. T. Corman where the Smith Brothers, together with a number of others, were being entertained, and asked for the undertakers—John Smith, the senior partner, responded, and to him the schemer related that he was George King, and that his wife was lying a corpse in the tenement house of J. P. Grove, located along the Brush Valley road, several miles below Centre Hall; that he was a poor man, but would pay the cash for his purchase. The man sobbed bitterly, and tears flowed down his cheeks in profusion, all the while. A casket, robe, etc, were selected, the sum total of the cost being $55. The instructions were that the casket, etc., were to be taken to the Grove house Friday morning, and the body after being properly placed therein, was to be brought to Spring Mills for shipment to Lewistown.

In payment for the bill of $55.00, a check drawn by H. & A. Barr, undertakers, Reedsville, in favor of George King, in the sum of $60.00 was presented. The check had the Barr business card on it, and had every appearance of being a first-class paper.

Of course, it was up to John Smith to give King five dollars as change, which he would not have hesitated to do, but, fortunately, he had little or no money in his office or on his person, Undertaker Smith excused himself, went back to the Corman home in quest of his brother, and after impressing the junior partner that he must leave the feast-board for business, the two brothers returned to their undertaking establishment, but only to find that King had disappeared. This action on the part of the bereaved (?) man was occasioned by the lack of nerve, as he thought that his game became transparent to Smith and that his going for change was rather for the purpose of securing the service of an officer.

King, it was discovered the next morning, stayed all night near Spring Mills, but nothing has been heard of him since.

This same man had been in Spring Mills within the past year; stopped with Landlord Geo. C. King, and on failing to pay the whole of his bill, a portion of his clothing was confiscated. Less than an hour before coming in contact with Smith Brothers, Schemer King asked for a drink at the hotel bar, and was turned down by the landlord who didn't care to run a second chance of losing through the same man Schemer King said he would get the money before leaving Spring Mills, but no one has knowledge that he did.

New Engines to be Built.

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad at a meeting in Philadelphia, Tuesday, decided upon the number of locomotives and passenger coaches to be built in the Altoona and Juniata shops for the ensuing year, beginning March 1. Three programs or schedules were considered by the board of directors at their meeting, providing, respectively, for the construction of 75, 150 and 180 locomotives. The second program was adopted with a slight variation.

The locomotive order provides for the construction of 146 engines, all of which will be built in the Juniata shops. Of this number, 111 are for the Pennsylvania railroad division and 35 for the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. Of these 25 will be shifting locomotives, 83 passenger and 38 freight engines. The order for coaches provides for the erection of 160 in the Altoona car shops, divided as follows: Coaches 102; combined coach and baggage cars, 30; postal cars, 9; dining cars, 8, baggage mail, 1.

Grave Yard Wiped out of Existence.

The sweeping water and ice on the Bald Eagle creek entirely wiped a grave yard out of existence. One of the oldest burying grounds in the county is the one near Unionville, and during the high water every vestige of a cemetery was swept away. Heavy tomb stones weighing thousands of pounds were hurled before the raging torrents, and carried far down the valley. The residents living near the place cannot tell one grave from another.

Property Owners have Rights.

Judge Voris Auten, in the Sunbury court Tudsday, decided that an ordinance adopted by the borough council, giving a telephone company the right of way to construct a line of poles and wires through the streets, does not give the said company the additional right to place a pole in front of any property when the same interferes with the right of the owner.

Drank Carbolic Acid.

Charles, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brungart, of Wolf's Store, died on Monday evening from the effects of drinking carbolic acid. In some way the child got hold of a bottle of the acid that was in the cupboard and before he was discovered had drank part of it.

Dr. Bright was immediately sent for but before he could arrive the child died in terrible agony.

Funeral services were held last Thursday forenoon and interment made at the Brungart church.

Huntingdon's Liquor Rules.

Judge Woods disposed of the applications for licenses in Huntingdon county by granting to all the old and refusing all the new. The following restrictions were placed upon the applicants:

Bars must be closed on Memorial Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas, and at 10 o'clock every night. In the sale of liquor in bottles the applicants will be held to the exercise of careful judgment.

Remarkable Egg Harvest.

D. C. Myers of Milton, during the 29 days of Feb. from 150 Plymoth Rock hens, got 2,461 eggs. When it is remembered that the thermometer, for eight days during February registered from six to ten degrees below zero, this splendid egg harvest is the more remarkable.

Reduction in Anthracite Coal Prices.

Word comes from New York that nothing will be done about anthracite coal spring prices until the soft coal strike question is out of the way. It is practically certain, however, that the usual spring reduction of fifty cents will occur on April 1. The belief is growing that a bituminous coal strike will be avoided.

A SEVERE COLD FOR THREE MONTHS.

The following letters from A. J. Nusbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story. "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me." Refuse substitutes. C. M. Parrish.

Wedding Trip Alone.

Charles Weaver, of Lewestown, returned from a wedding tour in Virginia last week and joined his bride, who remained at home since their marriage, three weeks ago.

While Weaver courted Miss Daisy Long he often talked of the good times they would have on their honeymoon trip, but Miss Long always demurred, saying she had no taste for travel. At the same time she told her husband that it was her earnest desire that he should enjoy the delights of a honeymoon trip, even if she could not accompany him.

Weaver took his bride's view of the matter, and the night they were married he left on the Pennsylvania train, leaving Lewistown at 11:16 o'clock for the hill country of Virginia.

On his return Mr. Weaver said he had enjoyed the beautiful scenery of the Old Dominion state, but of course his thoughts were always for his bride, who, alone, awaited his return to their pretty little home, which is located at Lewistown.

Eight Golden Rules.

Stick to the truth; simply and sincerely do what is right.

Never join in anything in which you cannot look up and say, "Bless me in this, O my Heavenly Father!"

Try to be kind and forgiving, both to friends and foes.

Speak no evil of others under any circumstances.

Watch against anger.

Deny yourself indulgences, especially in laziness.

Keep down pride; allow none but humble thoughts of self.

Pray. Pray every day, for in prayer is your greatest safety.

We Eat to Much.

Most people eat too much food. There is a foolish notion prevalent that no social gathering can be complete without feasting. The American people are notorious for feasts, often given late at night. These do much to shorten life. If you desire something in place of coffee or tea which are so injurious, use imitation coffee, made of scorched grain, cocoa or chocolate. Most people eat too rapidly. Food carefully chewed will digest in much less time than that swallowed hastily. The mind should be free from care and anxiety while eating.

A Tree That Moves.

A sort of acacia tree grows in Nevada to a height of eight feet. When the sun sets it is ready to go to sleep, shuts its leaves and coils the ends of its twigs like a pigtail. If any one pulls one of these tails the tree does not squeal but flutters and moves uneasily and seems to be deeply agitated. It is never disturbed by a shock, such as transplanting, the leaves stand out in all directions and quiver violently. Strangest of all they sent out a pungent nauseating odor that is most unpleasant. It takes this badtempered tree an hour or two to get back into good humor.

The Man in the Moon.

Probably even in prehistoric times men have noticed the face of the "man in the moon." Plutarch noticed it and even wrote a whole book about the face in the moon. But, besides this, many other objects are supposed to be visible. The dark markings on the surface are likened by the Chinese to a monkey pounding rice. In India they are said to resemble a rabbit. To the Persians they seem like the earth's oceans and continents reflected in a mirror.

On Fourteen Trestle

By...
Clinton Dangerfield

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

Across the wide river the trestle, No. 14, stretched unendingly, for the broken ground on both sides necessitated its covering not only the treacherous yellow tide, but much of the dubious shore beyond. Hinton's eyes rested dully on the one point of interest the shore under the trestle offered—namely, the small landing where steamers stopped for cotton. The landing boasted a gin, where the product in its raw shape, brought there in wagon loads by the small farmers, was reduced to proper commercial bulk. Although Hinton and Miss Wade were still a hundred yards from the spot where they would pass the landing below and twice that distance from the trestle's end, they could see all its details very plainly, especially the huge open bin, where a quantity of unseeded cotton had been thrown, to be transferred to the snorting, laboring machinery later.

"Jolie n'est ce pas?" observed Miss Wade lightly, with a wave of her hand which covered the surrounding scenery.

"That's French for 'pretty,'" interposed one of the children trotting at Miss Wade's heels. "I have learned that one word anyway," pursued the speaker proudly, and I mean to know more, 'cause you and Mr. Hinton talk in it and nobody can understand what you say. Hennie, Lou and me are all goin' to learn it, so's we can tell secrets in the openest company."

This ambitious scholar was one of three youngsters who had joined the couple in their walk and to whose intrusion neither Miss Wade nor her escort objected. Now that he had been finally and completely rejected, Hinton was glad to have their embarrassed silence broken by the chatter of the children. Miss Wade also was glad of their presence. As the 4 o'clock train had passed only a few moments ago, she had been quite sure it was safe to cross the trestle.

Then, just as she was encouraging the rather laggard footsteps of the youngest infant, her blood froze at the sound of a shrill, ominous screech behind them, echoing over the hills. Hinton heard it at the same instant. Evidently some special or perhaps a wildcat engine was bearing down upon them. And there was still so much trestle before them—so much of that slender network which offered no places of safety.

Looking back, he saw the thin line of smoke that marked the speeding death—they could never reach the other side in time!

The children, in their happy babble, heard nothing, and Hinton, forming an instant plan, said rapidly in French:

"Don't let them know. They will turn stupid with fright, and we could not do anything with them. Obey me, and I can save you all."

To the mastery in his eye Miss Wade yielded in a sort of blind confidence. He would save them all, she repeated, and the sick terror at her heart lessened its strain a little. She heard him laughingly urge the children to hurry, heard him offering prizes to the one who should pass the gin first and then saw him snatch up the fat legged six-year-old.

Wrapped in their wretchedly slow race, for they had to move with some caution, the children as they stood at last above the gin did not yet hear the thunderous monster, now setting its iron feet on the trestle itself. They only heard Hinton's sharp command "Stop!" and then their baby faces went white as they saw him lean over and drop the six-year-old into what seemed destruction. But Hinton's steady, athletic arms had not failed him. Before the astounded child knew what had happened she was lying on her back in the unseeded cotton.

With cool and desperate precision Hinton threw the would be French scholar down next, though he had to tear her frantic hands loose from his neck. The third youngster unceremoniously followed, landing on its head, but with no worse harm than falling between two loose piles of springy dirtyish white, which saved its spinal column from any hurt.

"You next," said Hinton calmly. "It's the one chance. The train is almost upon us."

As he spoke he lifted the girl, and she found herself trusting to his cool self possession in spite of the horror before her. What she might strike, where fall, she did not know. She only knew that in his steady eyes flamed a hero she had not dreamed of in their conventional acquaintance.

She thought of this as she thought of many other things in her descent to the cotton below. The drop was a fearful one, and it seemed to her that she passed an eternity before she touched anything. Then, like the first of the children, she lay on her back, staring up at the black mass thundering past above. As it reached the spot from whence she had been thrown she saw Hinton, his hands pointed above his head, leap far out toward the center of the stream, heading as far as possible from the saving cotton.

Ignoring the howls of the indignant children, who altogether failed to comprehend the reason for their brusque and unwilling flight downward, she scrambled out of the bin and ran to the edge of the shore. Had Hinton struck one of the numerous crags abounding in the river? Would he never rise again?

Her screams for aid brought the few men at work to her immediately. One of them unlocked a little flatboat moored to the shore, but as they prepared to push her off a brown head lifted itself from the muddy current, and Hinton, blowing the water from his mouth, clambered up on the little pier, his face growing radiant as he saw the girl unhurt.

"Oh, you!" she cried. "You are"—

She choked.

"How are the kids?" asked Hinton a little thickly.

"Safe as if they had merely been tossed into bed. Oh, Mr. Hinton—Robert—I"—

"Don't feel obliged to say anything pretty," interrupted Hinton a little ironically, misconstruing her embarrassment. "I've often dived from as great heights."

"You'd never dive twice into that river an' come out alive," interpolated the gin fireman abruptly.

"What did you think of as you winged your way down?" inquired Hinton lightly as they turned toward the wailing chorus of angry infants, who found the sides of the bin too high to scramble out.

Miss Wade went scarlet. "I thought of a lot of things!" she murmured.

"Yes," said Hinton politely, but with the wound she had given him before they had set foot on the trestle now reopening. He had saved her—for some other man!

"I thought especially," stammered Miss Wade, "of a—a proverb"—

"Yes? May I ask the saw?"

"It's a—that it's a woman's privilege to change her mind," murmured Miss Wade.

GIRLS MAKE DAINTY EXHIBITS.

Inmates of the Wisconsin Industrial School for girls will make an exhibit in the Education Department at the World's Fair representative of the needlework and basket work of the institution. The exhibit fills two large cases.

The most elaborate and most valuable piece is a handsome tablecloth, with drawn work in the center, and a heavy 16 inch border of hand made lace, in which Battenburg work and teneriffe wheels are combined, the pattern being an entirely new one. Another tablecloth has three rows of elaborate drawn work in the border, the corners being filled with the cross and crown design. There is a complete set of doilies, also in drawn work.

There are two beautiful handkerchiefs, one as dainty as a cobweb, with its rows of drawn work and its border of lace wheels crocheted from Battenburg thread, No. 1500, and the other having an elaborate drawn work pattern.

Two dolls form an interesting feature of the exhibit. One is dressed in the plain gown of gray and white sergine, which is the every day costume of the girls in the school, and the other has a wardrobe which is a reproduction of the one furnished the girl when she is sent out into the world again on parole. This costume includes a tailor made gown of blue serge, a cape, and a hat. The dolls also represent work which is done in the dressmaking and milinery departments of the industrial school.

One of the cases contains several pictures of the school, with some interior views of the girls at work. The articles in the exhibit have been made entirely by the girls.

Side Lights on the World's Fair.

St. Louis is detrmined to have the biggest and best exposition the world has ever seen if Uncle Sam doesn't lay up a cent.—Jamestown, N. Y., Journal.

Only 51 days to the opening of the World's Fair. And completing the preparations seems a bigger job now than Phileas Fogg's journey around the world.—Boston, Mass., Globe.

The World's Fair people are determined to have Pategonian giants at their show even if they have to import Michigan lumbermen.—Mexico City, Mexico Herald.

Whoever designed the private flag of David R. Francis, president of the St. Louis exposition, erred greviously. The flaw has a broad streak of yellow in it.—Pawnee City, Neb., Press.

Musicians are assured that there wil be no rag time music at the St. Louis exposition. It may puzzle some of the authorities to decide just where legitimate syncopation ends and rag-time begins.—Washington, D. C. Post.

It is predicted that the coming special issue of St. Louis World's Fair stamps is destined to be very popular. But the kind of stamps which suit most people the best will still be the good old fashioned currency bills.—Oshkosh, Wis., Northwestern.

An old saying is that as the days begin to lengthen, then the cold begins to strengthen. Can we not change the latter part for this year and have it say the World's Fair boom to strengthen.—Lowell, Mich., Journal.

If your uncle has an aunt who has a nephew whose wife has a cousin that is married to an old friend of your wife's sister, whose grandfather used to live in the same town with an old schoomate of yours, whose son-in-law is now in St. Louis, you should at once renew the acquaintance with a view of saving hotel bills while attending the World's Fair. This scheme can be worked successfully in many instances.—Advertiser, East Aurora, N. Y.

DO YOU WANT STRENGTH?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

One Hundred and Twelve Years Old.

Huntingdon can probably boast of always having its full share of babies, as well as other towns. But other towns can not boast of possessing a pair of twins equal to a Huntingdon outfit of two people. They are not babies now, but they have always been twins from babyhood. They are each fifty-six years old now, or 112 years combined. Their names are Daniel and Stewart Hertzler. They were born at Port Royal, but have resided in Huntingdon since 1869. A surprise party was held one evening not long ago at the home of one of the "boys"

However, that is disgressing, the principal subject is the twin brothers. Their mother used to think they were wonderful boys, and if she is living she doubtless does yet, for they are now among Huntingdon's best people, and though it may seem odd are very harmonious, quite unlike the two Juniata brothers who are figuring in the Blair county court. They were not only raised and went to school together, but they went to war together, and later moved from their native locality in Huntingdon together and learned their trade together. The farthest they ever lived apart was less than two miles, and they have never been farther away from each other but that in an hour they could have been brought together. They are plain, everyday people, but in many respects wonderful citizens, and Huntingdon ought to be proud of them. Doubtless she is.

Rich Cargo From Japan.

The most valuable cargo ever shipped from Japan to America was that which was brought from Yokohamo by the by the steamership Lyra. It consists of articles for the Japanese exhibit at the World's Fair. Included in the shipment were many contributions from the Mikado's own private collection.

Among the articles is a case of Japanese coins valued at $12,000. There are specimens of armor, showing the evolution of defensive body covering in Japan for more than 2,000 years; pictures showing the development of art in Nippon for centuries; Cloisonne, Imari, and Satsuma vases and vessels of indescribable beauty and of priceless value; ivory carvings, gold lacquer work, inlaid cabinets, temple antiquities, bronzes of wonderful workmanship, tapestries from the ancient palaces of the Mikados, and the entire material for the construction of a Japanese village to be erected in the Japanese concession at the exposition.

Six Slashed With Razors.

At Weedville, Elk county Thursday night two brothers named Ray, and a companion, who were intoxicated, precipitated a riot during a performance of Ward & Ettla's show in the public hall. They started in to stop the show and to clear the hall, and when they met with resistance, drew razors and slashed right and left. The lights were nearly all put out, chairs were wrecked by being put to defensive use, women shrieked and ran for their lives. The excitement was intense for a time. After the Rays made their escape, it was found that six people were severely cut with razors, one of whom, Boyd Erhard, received a deep cut in the back fifteen inches long. Among those struck and injured with chains were a number of women. There is no police protection at Weedsville.

Damp Weather and Health.

The influence of damp weather upon sensitive people is remarkable. If there is a sore spot anywhere it hurts more. Latent weakness of any of the organs is brought out by congestion and irregularity of function. Suppressed coughs start into activity and neuralgic nerves speak out. Old chronic rheumatism renews its life, while corns are aggravated. The pulse is slow, the heart weak, the blood vessels lack tone, the muscles are flabby, the venous and lymphatic systems become engorged. The mind is languid and clouded. There is a general depression of vitality.

—Twenty-six citizens of the village of Shrewsbury in York county, have become the defendants in suits charging them with conspiracy in dividing a fund of $1500, which it is alleged, was in the treasury of Washington Camp, No. 162, Patriotic Order Sons of America, of Shrewsbury, when it disbanded in 1902. The suits were entered in equity court by the officers of the State organization of the order. It is alleged the fund was divided among the twenty-six members by agreement.

BRIEF MENTION

—Robins are warbling.

Vote for your favorite teacher.

—The Bellefonte Republican is $1.00 a year in advance.

—Sale bills printed promptly and satisfactorily at this office.

—An efficient navy of proper size is a triumph in national economy.

—The Democrats are booming Col. James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, for National chairman.

—James Harris Sr. has been elected president of the Centre County Bank to succeed the late John L. Kurtz.

—Small pox has been stamped out of Williamsport, thanks to the intelligent work of their Board of Health.

—The price of eggs has taken a sudden drop. The hen is evidently getting a supply of eggs in anticipation of an early Easter.

—Emporium will celebrate the coming 4th of July and the fire department of the town are already at work on the arrangements.

—The last Legislature passed a law increasing the appropriation to be paid by the county commissioners for the burial of a soldier from $35 to $50.

—The Centre Hall reporter says that an effort is being made by the farmers and others about Coburn, Aaronsburg, Millheim and Rebersburg to erect a canning factory.

—Some teacher by getting their friends interested in their behalf can secure a free trip to the World's Fair at St Louis next summer through the Republican-News contest.

—The Midway part of the World's Fair is to be called "The Pike" and the press of the country is wondering why. That is dead easy; it is named after the Milesburg pike.

—Have you ever noticed when visiting a stranger's house that you usually get acquainted with all the facts in a photograph album before you get acquainted with the family.

—This is the pruning season. Cut the limbs and vines smoothly. If a saw is used, shave the wood with a chisel so it will have a smooth surface. Where quite large limbs are removed, make the cut six or eight inches from the trunk of the tree.

—An overhead mail carrier has been invented, says an exchange, which it is claimed, can be operated at the rate of forty miles or so an hour. The inventor says a circuituous route of fifty miles can be covered with ease in two hours, leaving at each farm house its consignment and picking up the mail to be sent out. Farmers will be served more regularly and expeditionsly than city people With rural telephones, mile a minute mail delivery and fast trollys the farm may outbid the city in popularity.

—Practically the entire plant of the Berwind-White Coal Co, at Windber and vicinity was closed Tuesday on account of a shortage in the car supply due to the floods which have greatly interferred with traffic on all the railroads, particularly in the east. The large output of the Windber mines makes it an absolute necessity that the coal be loaded for shipment as soon as it comes from the pit, as there has been no arrangements made for the storing of the product. A number of the mines have resumed upon the securing of a limited supply of cars, but some of the openings are still closed down and the high water is thus making itself felt even in that vicinity.

—"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly." are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshment," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the headaches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

Given away. Dr. Pierce's great work. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

—Vote for your favorite teacher.

—James Lee's family left Monday for Iola, Kanas, where they will make their future home.

—Don't forget the entertainment by the St. John's Catholic school in the Opera House tonight.

—Rev. W. B. Cox, the new pastor of the Evangelical church will preach his first sermon here next Sunday morning.

—Mrs. Robert Cole who has been sick for several days, is still on the sick list. We have been told that she has an attack of la grip.

—Korea has an insignificant military force, but she ought not to be censured for contributing her widow's mite to the relief of Japan.

—The infant son of Wm. and Anna Kline died Saturday morning at its parents home at Roopsburg. Interment Sunday afternoon at Sunnyside cemetery.

—Mr. James Stine, the Thomas street grocer who has been sick with the grippe for some time, has about recovered his former health again.

—Robert Barnhart, a flagman on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad, while turning a switch Tuesday afternoon fell and broke his right arm between the elbow and wrist.

—New stockings being made for women have pockets in them. It will not become fashionable, however, for the ladies to stand around with their hands in their pockets.

—Remember teachers or your friends. that every new subscriber you can get for the Daily News or Bellefonte Republican will count you 50 votes in the World's Fair Contest for every dollar paid.

—Mrs. Mary A. Lee, a former resident of Milesburg, died Tuesday noon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Ryuder of Erie, Penna. She will be buried at Tyrone this morning at 11 o'clock.

—One of the best papers in the United States for the tiller of the soil, is the "Tribune farmer." You can get this valuable farm paper with the Bellefonte Republican and it will not cost you one cent.

—The Wilson-Fry Concert Co., will give one of their excellent entertainments in Petrikin Hall on Friday evening April 1st. It will be given for the benefit of the furnishing fund of the Y. M. C. A.

—The plans and specifications prepared by the Philadelphia architect for the new gymnasium and other improvements at the Y. M. C. A., have arrived. The contractors are preparing their bids for doing the work.

—Harry Hassinger, Wm. Jodon, Samuel Bryan and Elmer Gordon while fishing down at Curtin's Works last week caught a carp that weighed eleven pounds. It measured 22½ inches in length and 16 inches around the body.

—Harry E. Huber, stage carpenter and bill poster for the Lock Haven opera house, will travel with the advance guard of Forepaugh & Sells Bros., circus the coming season as one of the bill posters. He will leave in about two weeks to report for duty at Philadelphia, where the show will open the season.

—The pupils of St Johns' School will give an entertainment in the opera house this evening, The program will consist of vocal and instrumental music, a three act operatta and a one act drama. The entertainment promises to be a great success and deserves a large patronage. Seats on sale at Parrish's.

—A young son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Parrish at their home in Petrikin Hall Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Both mother and babe are getting along nicely. Doctor Parrish thinks he is the greatest boy that ever lived and no doubt he will some day be President. He weighs 12 pounds. Accept our congratulations.

—About the only recent improvement in spectacles is the round, invisible, reading disc, but it is in the matter of eyeglasses that evolution has wrought wonders of elegance and convenience. The "Revlone" "Suron" "Llasses" guards, insure safety, comfort and adjustment. It is no trouble for Dr. Forey to show you these new and stylish glasses at his parlors in the Brockerhoff house.

—Mrs. Matilda Rudy died at Reedsville, Pa., at 12 o'clock Tuesday night March 8th, of heart disease. Her age was about 69 years. The funeral was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Lewistown. She was the mother of Percival Rudy, of State College, who with a number of other sons and daughters survive the aged parent. Her husband preceded her to the grave about one year ago.

—The Tribune-Farmer, a weekly paper published in New York City for $1 00 a year in advance. The Bellefonte Republican published at Bellefonte, Pa. also $1.00 a year in advance. Send one dollar to the Republican, Bellefonte, Pa., and receive both papers one year for the price of one. We have made a contract with the New York Tribune-Farmer, one of the best Farm Journals in the country, by which we are enabled to make this unparalleled offer to our patrons. See advertisement in another column.

—Mrs. Boyd Cowher of this place is very ill at her home in Burh's addition.

—Henry Bartley an aged resident of this place is ill at his home on Willowbank street.

—George Rider's family has moved to Scottdale, Pa., where they will make their future home.

—Frank Bouzer, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, died at his home at Butler, Pa., on Friday of typhoid fever.

—Mrs. James Shorter fell on the ice and tore the ligaments loose in her right limb. She is improving as well as can be expected.

—Calvin Troupe is one of the happiest boys in town as on Saturday evening a dear little baby girl was left at their home on Thomas Street.

—James Harvey Wilson, a well-known citizen of Tyrone, died Wednesday morning at his home in that place of paralysis, aged 73 years, 4 months and 10 days.

—We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. C. D. Krider the efficient car inspector for the P. R. R. Co., at this place. During his sickness his work is being done by Mr. Hummel of Tyrone.

—Some of the young fellows who accompanied the women of the "Little Egypt" troupe to the restaurant after the show Wednesday evening had better lay low—you know fellows women will talk.

—The people living in Bush's Addition have about decided to change the name of that part of town. They expect to call it farmersville. The reason for the change is because a number of retired farmers have taken up residence there.

—The veteran editor and politican, Col. A. K. McClure, is doing a great work for future generations of his state, as well as the present, in writing a complete history of Pennsylvania politics and progress, covering fully two generations.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Harris, of Mechanicsburg, are rejoicing over the arrival of a sweet little baby girl at their home last week. The Republican force over which Mr. Harris was the honored head for several years tender them their sincere congratulations.

—China is very anxious to join Japan in giving Russia a severe thrashing, but just how she is going to do that and maintain her neutrality is not plain to the Chinese statesmen. Besides, if Russia should get the better of Japan, China would be likely to fare pretty badly.

—Rev. Wm. Brown, pastor of the Evangelical church at this place, preached his farwell sermon lastSunday evening. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity. Rev. Brown has certainly been a great Christian worker while pastor of the church and we are certainly sorry to loose him from our midst.

—Two foreigners named Andrew Brown and Michael Smith, received a number of severe scalp wounds at Monument Friday. They were coming down the incline at the clay mines, when the car got beyond control and dashed into the engine at the foot of the incline. They were taken to the Lock Haven hospital Friday night, where their injuries received attention.

—Mrs. George Yeakel, the girl bride of near Salladasburg, is an occupant of the Wmsp't. jail, waiting to be examined by a commission in lunacy. She is 16 years old and last November eloped with Yeakel, who drove her to Cogan Station, from where a hurried trip was made to Elmira, N. Y., where a marriage ceremony was performed. The girl lived at Larry's creek.

—It a wreck should occur today and the yard engine entirely thrown over an embankment, no one would be to blame because Elmer Bowes is the happiest man on the crew, for only Friday evening the stork visited his home at Snow Shoe and left two bouncing boys. Mrs. Bowes and the little men are doing well and it will not be long until Elmer has them on the engine showing them how to do the firing.

—Miss Anna Keichline daughter of Squire Keichline of Bishop street entertained a number of her young lady friends on Saturday evening. The young people were requested to come in masquerade costumes, consequently when all had assembled they presented quite an attractive appearance, as gliding in and about each other were quaint looking Japanese ladies, Oriental maidens, Sedate grandmothers and many others in fancy costume. There was much merriment at the time of unmasking. Choice refreshments were served and before the guests departed a flash light picture of the entire gathering was taken.

—At Indianapolis Monday Patrick Dolan, of the Pittsburg miners, said: 'The action of the conference places the chance of a strike beyond a possibility. There will be no strike of the bituminous miners." President John Mitchell, of the miners, said "I do not wish to influence the members now. All I wish to say is that the members of the states whose contracts expire April 1, will be free to vote their sentiments." Central Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Western Kentucky, Michigan and Iowa, are permitted to vote on the scale for the competitive district because the contracts will expire on April 1.

It is the Surer Way

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.
